MONDAY OCT. 9 -- AUTISM AWARENESS DAY AT THE STATEN ISLAND ZOO

9:00 AM TO NOON

The Staten Island Zoo is once again proud to be going Blue ... providing a friendly, judgment-free environment for families affected by autism spectrum disorders. The day will allow people with autism to enjoy the great offerings provided by the zoo, in addition to animal presentations, sensory exploration activities, and a scavenger hunt! A quiet area will also be available for families who would like to take a break from the activities.

Gates will open one hour early at 9:00am and activities will run through Noon.

Tickets are $6 each and are sold on the Zoo's website: www.statenislandzoo.org.

Thanksgiving with the Beasts

Saturday, Nov. 18, Noon to 3 pm

In the tradition of celebrating a harvest we'll make special Thanksgiving meals for our animal family throughout the afternoon.

We'll also feature the Red Storm Drum and Dance Troupe, celebrating the Native American culture and its strong relationship with animals. The performance includes music, songs, dances and stories.

ZOO KID FUN DAYS

Noon to 3 pm

Wed., Dec. 27 & Thurs., Dec. 28

Bundle up and come to the Zoo for an afternoon of fun and exploration. Learn all about how our animals survive the coldest temperatures through their amazing winter survival skills. Ongoing keeper talks and animal presentations will help you discover the ways animals make it through -- and even thrive -- the harshest season. Visitors can make winter-themed animal enrichment.

Want to travel the globe over school break? Let our animals take you on a trip around the world. Listen to music and play games from around the world. Say Thank You to our country's Bald Eagles while learning about other cultures and the animals that live there.

Activities ongoing for toddlers through 'twins ... it's all Included with your Zoo admission ... presented by
